LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23, 1846. I have been to-day at the Post Office Depart-ment, and have received all the facts connected with the establishment of the new steam lines to the principal ports in Europe, about to be effected, under the auspices of the department.

This is a very important movement, and I have every reason to believe that it will be carried ter General advertised for the bids, leading to a con-tract for the establishment of steam lines to some of the West Indies. This proposal only received for bids—one from Mr. Mann, of Baltimore; anot from Mr. Saoo, of Cincinnati; another from E. Mills, of New York, and another from whose name I forget. Out of these proposals, was accepted by the Postmaster General, nam that of Mr. Mills, of New York. Mr. Mills's tract will be guaranteed by some of the most sponsible men in New York, such as Mr. Bro Sam. Jaudon & Co.; Captain Comstock, known at the steamboat offices; John I. Boyd the Havre line; Jacob A. Westervelt, and Mills (I believe the brother of the contractor). der the auspices of these gentlemen, the lines to be established, embracing a number of ste boats, of the size of the Great Western, to run a fortnight between New York and Cowes, to ing at Bremen. There is a clause in the contractory oviding that half the time they may touch Havre, which, under certain contingencies, ma carried out. Cowes is a sea-port, situated near termination of the railroad from London to So ampton; and it may be considered nearer Lon than even the port of Liverpool, by some the miles.

ampton; and it may be considered nearer London than even the port of Liverpool, by some thirty miles.

The Postmaster General's advertisement, last year, created considerable attention in some parts of Europe, and has brought over agents from Bremen, and from Hamburgh, in order to make arrangements for the lines touching at those ports. A gentleman from Bremen has been in this city for some time, with a view to effect such an arrangement, so as to make it touch at the latter piace; and yesterday, an agent from Hamburgh arrived, for the same purpose. It will be seen, therefore, that the line proposed here, has created a great sensation in Europe. Some persons may think that these lines ought to have terminated at Liverpool, but I believe the motives of the Postmaster General, in providing for their terminating at Cowes and Bremen, or Cowes and Havre, is not to interfere with the Cunard line, touching at Boston and Liverpool, now established under the patronage of the British government. I have been informed, that two of the vessels for this line have already been placed on the stocks at New York, and that it is their intention to finish one of them by next January. Certainly, the parties at New York, and that it is their mtention to finish one of them by next January. Certainly, the parties at New York are capable of carrying it out, with skill. Mr. Brown is favorably known in the commercial world; John I. Boyd has, also, great skill in the trans-Atlantic trade, and so is Mr. Comstock, also, well known for his experience in steam affairs.

It will be seen, therefore, that we will have a line of steamers between New York and Europe before another twelve-month. The want of enterprise, heretofore manifested by the merchants of New York, will be supplied by the energy and skill of the Post Office Department. The whole affair, I believe, will soon be presented, in all its details, in a report to be sent to Cangress this week, by the Postmaster General. The measure yet requires the sanction of Congress, but of this th Postmaster General. The measure yet requires the sanction of Congress, but of this there is no doubt.

I have also made inquiry relative to the progress making in the magnetic telegraph between this city and New York. I saw Mr. Morse, the ingenious inventor, to-day, and learned that it is probable the line between Baltimore and Philadelphia may be ready for operation in a month, and the line between Philadelphia and New York, in about a fortnight—so that, in about a month or five weeks, we may expect that the magnetic telegraph will be in full operation between Washington and New York—giving the latter intelligence in rel tion to matters transpiring at Washington, at any hour, and enabling the N. York journals to publish the proceedings each day, the same as the Washington press. The establishment of the telegraph in other parts of the country, between New York and Buffalo, is proceeding with speed, and in a short time it will be in operation through the entire Northern and Eastern States. Great speculation is affoat in all quarters as to its effect upon the newspaper press. I believe that when it goes fully into operation, that three fourths of the mere business newspapers in the large cities, will be utterly annihilated by the telegraph. I learn that suce the opening of the line between Albany and Utica, one of the Utica journals has nearly doubled its circulation, while those distant journals, that used to be received in that place for the news merely will be stopped as soon as convenient. The operations of the telegraph will be sin gular; it will annihilate all the mere commercian newspapers, and give a larger and more extended circulation to such original, thanking, and intellect ual Journals as the Hirald. This is the opinion of the best informed in these matters.

ual Journals as the Hirad. This is the opinion the best informed in these matters.

I have been informed to-day, on some author that the tariff bill may not be taken up for so time, but may be preceded by the Treasury bill the House of Representatives. Some friends the administration think the best mode of ceeding, will be to settle the currency, as far as independent treasury bill is concerned, before touch the revenue, or tariff bill. I am not but this is the best method of proceeding to act
